

Assistant Project Manager (m/f/d), 80-100% to start immediately or as agreed upon

Ever dreamed of being part of something with a deeper purpose? Guided by the visionary insight of our founder, Dr. Alberto Villoldo—a medical anthropologist who has immersed himself in the shamanic healing arts of the Amazon and Andes for over 30 years—The Four Winds school merges modern science with age-old shamanic wisdom.

The Four Winds School is renowned as the Harvard of neo-shamanism, offering the most comprehensive training in Shamanic Energy Medicine worldwide. Our mission is to nurture powerful healers, igniting transformative changes in our world. To strengthen our mission and our team we are looking for an Assistant Project Manager to support us.

Welcome to the world of the Shaman

For millennia, the shamans of the Andes have understood what Western culture has ignored: That true healing is the awakening to a vision of our ageless nature and the experience of infinity.

Their closely guarded healing practices are sacred technologies that transform the body, heal the soul, and can change the way we live and die. At The Four Winds Society, we bridge these ancient wisdom teaching with modern neuroscience, striving to transform the world by instilling exceptional health and joy in those crossing our path.

YOUR TASKS:

- Launches & Campaigns: You are responsible to plan and set up funnels and promotional campaigns for Entry and Advanced level courses as well as the Energy Medicine Training on the English Four Winds channel.
- Online Summit: As a Co-lead the Earthkeepers Summit project you'll engage with speakers, setting up schedules, planning the Summit Funnel, Marketing campaign, and following up results and key stats in a debrief meeting.
- Sales and KPIs: Support management in keeping track of sales and important performance numbers.
- Market research: You are looking for new marketing ideas and tech tools, research what's popular and bring in new ideas.
- Work with IT Team: Be the bridge between our visions and the technical implementations, assisting with tech changes or updates we need.
- Team Meetings: Assisting management in guiding team meetings. Take the lead in the bi-monthly Kaizen innovation sessions, ensuring that agreed-upon initiatives are effectively implemented.
- Grow Our Network: Scout and collaborate with potential affiliate partners and influencers to help promote our products.
